

Obi Plans Classes

The Obi Society is planning to give its members special classes on Black Culture.

The purpose is to enlighten Obi members to the achievements of black people. The Obi Society says that some of its members can't communicate their conditions to the whites because they lack the social awareness of black leaders.

The communication gap is therefore a two-way thing where blacks can't communicate with whites and blacks can't communicate with blacks. In some cases whites are often more familiar with the thinking of black leaders than the blacks themselves.

Obi went before the Activities Council Oct. 22 and asked to use a classroom where they can give their educational courses.
